NO MEDICAID CUTS

The Republican Plan for Medicaid Will Harm South Carolina

Healthy Connections is the state's Medicaid program. More than 1 million South Carolinians rely on Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP).

Republican Cuts to Medicaid Put South Carolinians' Health and Coverage At-Risk

Every proposal on the Republican wish list of more than $2 trillion in Medicaid cuts is bad news for South Carolinians. Medicaid cuts would harm children, older adults, and families, ripping away their health care access and coverage. Republican Medicaid cuts would:

Cut Care for Children. Around 43% of children in South Carolina are enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP. Around 60% of kids with special health care needs, such as a physical or behavioral disability, rely on Medicaid in South Carolina. Cuts would disproportionately hurt children with the lowest incomes and the highest health care needs.

Block Access for Pregnant Women and Newborns. Nearly 26,500 births (46%) in South Carolina per year are covered by Medicaid. A cut to Medicaid would prevent mothers and babies from getting the care they need.

Increase Disparities for Communities of Color. Around 59% of children and adults with Medicaid in South Carolina are people of color. A decrease in Medicaid funding would reduce access for the communities that need it the most.

Curb Health Care Access for People with Disabilities. Medicaid covers nearly 237,000 people with a disability in South Carolina. Only 38% receive Supplemental Security Income, meaning many do not qualify for Medicaid on the basis of their disability and could be subject to Republican policies like work reporting. People with disabilities often depend on Medicaid for services in order to thrive in their communities.

Create Barriers to Behavioral Health Services. Nearly 46,000 Medicaid beneficiaries were treated for a substance use disorder in South Carolina in 2021. Medicaid cuts and eligibility restrictions threaten lifesaving treatment for people with behavioral health needs.

Cut Coverage for Medicare Beneficiaries.

Nearly 185,000 dually-eligible South Carolinians rely on Medicaid to help pay their Medicare premiums and co-pays. For these enrollees, a cut to Medicaid is a cut to Medicare.

Disrupt Nursing Home Care. Cuts to Medicaid could disrupt care for 63% of nursing home residents in South Carolina who use Medicaid to pay for care in a nursing home.

Bottom Line:

Republican proposals to cut Medicaid will result in South Carolinians losing Medicaid coverage—and there is no acceptable coverage loss. No Medicaid cuts to South Carolinians to fund tax handouts to billionaires.
